

There's finally a comprehensive and effective substance use treatment program that really works

Through our innovative telehealth solution, we offer intensive outpatient care without disrupting lives. It's discreet and convenient, so members focus on getting healthier, instead of focusing on the stigma.

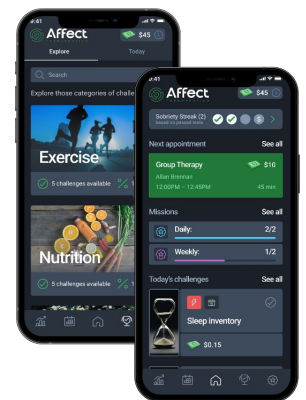

We gamified the treatment process to keep people engaged

Affect is powered by cutting-edge medical science and technology. Members receive small financial rewards for success in treatment, including appointment attendance and negative drug or alcohol screens.

Our results are extraordinary

Affect members are almost 90% less likely to incur costly emergency department visits or hospital stays, driving down healthcare costs and easing the burden on all providers.

Affect's program works twice as well as traditional treatment options for alcohol, stimulant, and cannabis use disorders

Positive motivation and activating the brain's rewards system is proven by research to be more effective in managing substance use disorders into lasting remission. Contingency management and harm reduction are shown to succeed where aversion therapy and strict abstinence fail millions of people seeking relief from the chronic disease of addiction.

The barriers to access effective treatment are numerous. People fear reaching out for help and deny their disorder. Affect's discreet program brings them to realization, making it more comfortable and convenient to get highly effective and licensed outpatient and intensive outpatient care, and stay in treatment until they're healthy.

An exceptional experience ensures high initiation rates with average first outreach to enrollment in under 48 hours.

All services – including drug testing and breathalyzers – are conducted via the app so members have constant and convenient access to care.

Our members regain control of their lives and health, and they are almost 90% less likely to be hospitalized or visit the ED.

Affect is a better way to get better

Traditional treatment modalities have limited success. The relapse rate following inpatient treatment is over 60% within a month of discharge. While IOP works better with recovering in place, Affect's convenience takes it to a higher level. There's no need to go to rehab.

Driven by data and fueled with empathy, Affect's approach to treating SUDs is a game changer. We work with providers to make the lives of your patients better and take pressure off you. Visit GetAffect.com to learn more.
